

BCM DECATHLON ETF SERIES

The BCM Decathlon Series (BDS) is an innovative line of dynamic asset allocation strategies that combine the insights of behavioral finance with the power of artificial intelligence. The BDS will seek to follow the three Algorithmic Investment Models, LLC (AIM) Indices. Targeting different levels of volatility, the strategies are designed to maximize returns and minimize drawdowns for each unit of investor-chosen risk. Utilizing breakthrough Pattern Recognition Technology (PRT), the AIM engine ranks a diverse universe of over 100 handpicked equity, fixed income, and alternative Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs) for investment timeliness. Higher ranked ETFs are purchased on an equal-weight basis and reviewed for ongoing inclusion. Due to the constantly changing constellation of ETF prices and broad range of ETF choices, BDS strategies have no fixed asset allocation. They can range from 100% equity to 100% fixed income depending upon the market conditions. Prospect Theory, the notion that losses hurt more than gains feel good, is explicitly formulated into the PRT selection process. By emphasizing loss avoidance and by frequent review of portfolio holdings, the PRT software pursues hyper-efficient portfolios of ETFs that can rapidly adapt to changing market conditions.

The BFP Capital Management investment strategies are not appropriate for everyone. Due to the periodic rebalancing nature of our strategies, they are not appropriate for those investors who need or desire monthly or quarterly withdrawals or who wish to make periodic deposits.

The allocations shown are back tested averages for the respective AIM indices only. BCM maintains discretion over all of its strategies. Actual allocations will vary over time. Money market levels in the BCM strategies are estimated to be, at a minimum, 2% even when a model is "fully" invested. Signals calling for trades that are less than $500.00 or 0.25% of the account may not be completed if, at BCM's sole discretion, they do not warrant incurring the trading costs.

The AIM Decathlon Indices are algorithm driven and use pattern recognition technology (PRT) to rank a population of over 100 handpicked ETFs in which it will typically "invest" in the 10 most promising based on upward price movement and defined volatility levels. BCM may use additional ETFs in the event of a wash sale or similar situation. AIM Decathlon Aggressive Index targets volatility in the high teens, AIM Decathlon Moderate Index in the low-mid teens and AIM Decathlon Conservative Index in the mid-single digits. Each index re-evaluates the population of ETFs and 'rebalances' every 25 trading days; the BCM Decathlon strategies will typically rebalance every 25 trading days but have the ability to trade more frequently if the manager deems necessary.

Foreign markets, particularly emerging markets, can be more volatile than the U.S. market due to increased risks of adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments and can perform differently from the U.S. market. Emerging markets can be subject to greater social, economic, regulatory, and political uncertainties and can be extremely volatile. Currency ETFs share similar risks as emerging markets.

As with all investments, there are associated inherent risks. Diversification into many ETFs does not assure a profit or protect an investor from loss. Sector investments concentrate in a particular industry and the investments' performance could depend heavily on the performance of that industry and be more volatile than the performance of less concentrated investment options and the market as a whole. As with all investments, there are associated inherent risks. ETFs are not actively managed, trade like stocks and are subject to investment volatility and the potential for loss. The principal amounts invested in ETFs are not protected, guaranteed or insured.
